

As a new, small business, I NEED a wide-ranging variety(-ies) of news sources ACTUALLY owned and controlled by a wide variety of ACTUAL persons for my personal database(s). How can I EVEN BEGIN to trust the various news outlets if they are in effect "doing as they are told" INSTEAD of doing as they must and should without fear of any retribution from their chief superiors? The various national and homeland security agencies and organizations, including the various intelligence/espionage ones, have and plentifully partake from vast varieties of news sources and outlets, both nonclassified and classified. We, the outsiders of such a shadowy world, should and must have ACTUAL ASSURANCES of the same via the FCC continuing the restrictions and other limitations on media ownership and control, not going the way of abysmal, abominable, over-the-top, totally-unnecessary concentration.
